

Scientific searches on medical topics

Do you get inquiries from physicians or pharmacists? We help pharma companies answer questions that physicians, pharmacists, and patients may have on their proprietary drugs.

FIZ Karlsruhe's Search Service is an expert outsourcing partner for your medical research department. We search high-quality databases for topical results from research on diseases, drugs, and therapies. Our ex-perts have many years of experience and will provide you quickly and efficiently with the information you need.

We have been working with FIZ Karlsruhe's Search Service for more than four years. We commission FIZ Karlsruhe with literature searches on complex medical inquiries from physicians and pharmacists regarding our drugs or indications and diseases related to them.

We are very satisfied with the results provided by FIZ Karlsruhe. The quality of the searches always meets our expectations and the agreed time frames are met. We appreciate the good collaboration with the information professionals at FIZ Karlsruhe.

Many thanks!

Dr. U. Alshuth, Scientific Information Services, Roche Pharma AG

For more than 40 years, FIZ Karlsruhe has been a partner to researchers and enterprises in the information business. It operates the renowned online information service STN International together with Chemical Abstracts Service. FIZ Karlsruhe's Search Service consists of experienced scientists from various disciplines.

We offer targeted searches in subject-specific databases containing topical literature from the fields of medicine, pharmacology and biology. For our searches we primarily use the databases EMBASE, MEDLINE, BIOSIS und ADIS CLINICAL TRIALS IN-SIGHT (ADISCTI), which are hosted on STN®. Of course, further STN®-hosted databases or freely available databases can be searched upon request.

You will receive the de-duplicated search results summarized in one, clearly structured report that can be edited in line with your specifications and presented in your own layout.

The searches are carried out in close dialog with you. We offer monitoring searches in order to continuously provide you with literature on your topic of interest. These can be performed automatically or manually at time intervals of your choice.

We guarantee a high degree of transparency and, of course, absolute confidentiality. If you wish, we will also conclude a non-disclosure agreement with you.

Are you already an STN® customer? Then provide us with a login ID in order to benefit from your included STN® advantages, e.g. your STN GVP!
